LEGENDS OF THE NEPEAN

GARRY RUMBLE OAM

Garry & Louise Rumble

BY NOEL ROWSELL

GARRY Rumble has been a prominent figure in Penrith throughout his adult life, not only working with Penrith City Council for 31 years but also working diligently and extensively in the community with Apex, Rotary and Probus.

Born in 1941 in Leura, Garry began his life in community services as a teenager with the Blue Mts District Hospital Auxilliary Services Youth Group, helping to raise funds for equipment.

Garry married wife Louise in 1965 (also in Leura) and the couple had two children, son Chris and daughter Jodie.

Garry joined the Penrith Apex Club in 1973 and in addition to serving as Apex 40 Vice President for 8 years, served in several other positions from 1973-1982.

He subsequently joined Penrith Rotary in 1985 and served through to 1993, before chartering the Nepean Rotary Club in 1993.

In addition to serving as President, Garry held various Director positions within Nepean Rotary and has enjoyed an unbroken 26-year run with the Club, achieving outstanding personal goals and innumerable Club achievements along the way.

A Justice of the Peace (JP) since 1966, Garry has collected awards for services to the Penrith community on a regular basis, including Life Membership of Penrith Apex in 1982, Paul Harris Fellow in 1997, Paul Harris Sapphire, the Centenary Medal in 2000, International Year of the Volunteers in 2001 and awarded the Medal of the Order of Australia (OAM) in 2009.

Garry was the Convenor for the formation of Nepean Riverlands Probus Club in 2003, Convenor for the formation of Glenmore Park Probus government, which began with 6 years with the Blue Mountains City Council then 5 years with Bankstown City Council.

"I first started with Penrith City Council as a District Health Surveyor, then progressed through the ranks to be appointed Health and Building Services Manager in 1988," Garry said.

"Following a Council restructure in 1996, I was appointed Safety, Emergency and Waste Services Manager and remained in that role until my retirement."

Garry was suitably honoured with a farewell dinner from Council in 2001, with a two-page testament to his impact on Penrith compiled for the occasion by Council's then OH&S / Employee Relations Officer Jim Mason.

Three years after retirement, Garry was elected as a Penrith City Councillor and served in that role from 2004-2008.

Garry has recently been awarded Life Membership of Nepean Riverlands Probus Club.

Club in 2005 and was president of the Nepean Probus Club in 2012.

He was also a committee member of the Olympic Torch Relay and Paralympic Games from 1998-2000 and a member of the original committee in 1985, which organised the relocation of the Penrith Museum of Fire to its current location.

Garry was Vice Chairman of the Fire Museum from 2001-2018 and has also been a Clean-Up Australia Coordinator for the past 20 years.

Whilst packing all of the above into his personal free time, Garry's achievements on Penrith City Council have also had a huge impact on the local community.

These include the introduction of 'Wheelie' waste disposal bins into households in the Penrith District in 1982, the establishment of a computer system to track building applications in 1985, installation of the 'floating weir' on the Nepean River and acting as liaison with both the State Emergency Service (SES) and the Rural Bush Fire Brigade.

Garry held the position of Local Emergency Management Officer from 1989, represented Council on the Flood Mitigation Management Authority of NSW and was Chief Warden of the Emergency Evacuation

Team for the Civic Centre from the time of it's opening.

Garry had also been on the Civic Centre Construction Project Team and was involved in the promotion of the 'one stop counter' concept.

His administrative and leadership skills allowed him to reach high positions within Council, including Director of City Operations and Director of City Services.

Garry's final position in Council prior to his retirement was Safety, Emergency and Waste Services Manager.

He served 31 years with Penrith City Council and 42 years in local

HUMOR

Seenagers!

I JUST discovered my age group! I'm a Seenager (Senior teenager). I have everything I wanted as a teenager, only it's 55-60 years later. I don't have to go to school or work. I get an allowance every month. I have my own pad. I don't have a curfew. I have a driver's license and my own car. I have ID that gets me into bars and the wine store. I like the wine store best.

The people I hang around with are not scared of getting pregnant, they aren't scared of anything, they have been blessed to live this long, why be scared? And I don't have acne. Life is Good! If you're a Seenager, you'll feel much more intelligent after reading this.

Brains of older people are slow because they know so much. We don't decline mentally with age – it just takes us longer to recall facts because we have more information in our brains. Scientists believe this also makes you hard of hearing as it puts pressure on your inner ear.

Also, older people often go to another room to get something and when they get there, they stand there wondering what they came for. It's NOT a memory problem; it is nature's way of making older people do more exercise.
SO THERE!

I have more friends I should send this to, but right now I can't remember their names. So please forward this to your friends . . . they might be my friends, too.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK:

A 90-year-old man said to his doctor, "I've never felt better. I have an 18-year old bride who is pregnant with my child. What do you think about that?"
The doctor considered his question for a minute and then said, "I have an elderly friend who is a hunter and never misses a season. One day when he was going out in a bit of a hurry, he accidentally picked up his umbrella instead of his gun. When he got to the Creek, he saw a rabbit sitting beside the stream. He raised his umbrella and went, 'bang, bang' and the rabbit fell dead. What do you think of that?"
The 90-year-old said, "I'd say somebody else killed that rabbit."
The doctor replied, "My point exactly."

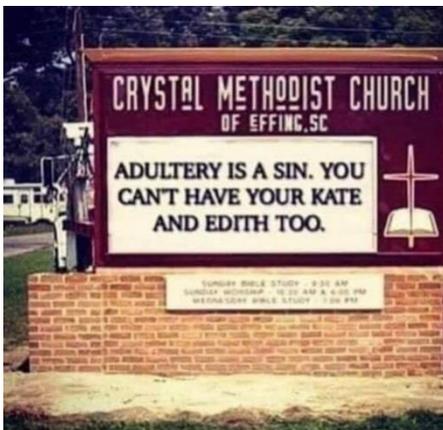

HAVE A SEAT

A man was looking for a place to sit in a crowded university library.
He asked a girl: "Do you mind if I sit beside you?"
The girl replied, in a loud voice. "NO, I DON'T WANT TO SPEND THE NIGHT WITH YOU!"
All the people in the library started staring at the man, who was deeply embarrassed and moved to another table.
After a couple of minutes, the girl walked quietly to the man's table and said with a laugh: "I study psychology, and I know what a man is thinking; I bet you felt embarrassed, right?"
The man responded in a loud voice: "$500 FOR ONE NIGHT? I'M NOT PAYING YOU THAT MUCH!"
All the people in the library looked at the girl in shock.
The man whispered to her: "I study law, and I know how to screw people."

Today at the bank, an old lady asked me to help check her balance. So I pushed her over.
I bought some shoes from a drug dealer. I don't know what he laced them with, but I've been tripping all day.
I told my girlfriend she drew her eyebrows too high. She seemed surprised.
My dog used to chase people on a bike a lot. It got so bad, finally I had to take his bike away.
I'm so good at sleeping. I can do it with my eyes closed
I proposed to my ex-wife. But she said no. She believes I'm just after my money.

Grammar Lesson: Is it "Complete", "Finished" or "Completely Finished"?

No English dictionary has been able to adequately explain the difference between these two words - "Complete" and "Finished". In a recent linguistic competition held in London and attended by, supposedly, the best in the world, Samdar Balgobin, a Guyanese man, was the clear winner with a standing ovation which lasted over five minutes. The final question was: "How do you explain the difference between COMPLETE and FINISHED in a way that is easy to understand? Some people say there is no difference between COMPLETE and FINISHED." Here is his astute answer: "When you marry the right woman, you are COMPLETE. When you marry the wrong woman, you are FINISHED. And, when the right one catches you with the wrong one, you are COMPLETELY FINISHED!"
